How do I complete my first Benchmark review?

The online tool tells you how much of the review you have completed.

Please note: you don't have to complete all the review, but if you leave out too many questions the online tool may not have enough information to produce your personalised Benchmark Report.

The Accelerate performance section, illustrated by a blue box, is different to the other areas of the review. It has six different sections.

Click on each of the blue headings to answer the questions in the section.
